WEATHER GIVES WHEAT SETBACK

Marked Increase of Country Offerings Arrive, Especially From Illinois and Nebraska.

Chicago, Ill., Aug. 6.—Wheat underwent a setback in price today on account of warmer and generally fine weather. There was a marked increase of country offerings to arrive, especially from Illinois and Nebraska. Opening prices, which ranged from 1 1/2c decline to 1/4c advance, were followed by losses, then a reaction.

The close was steady, 1 1/2c to 1 3/4c off.

Corn was bearishly affected by weakness of wheat. After opening 1/4c to 1/2c lower, prices suffered a slight additional decline.

The close was weak, 1/4c to 1 1/2c net lower.

Oats felt the weight of large overnight purchases from first hands.

Lower prices for hogs pulled down provisions.
